Revision history 32

A. Background

In the past, sets of form and topical subdivisions evolved for use under personal name headings belonging to a few broad categories of persons: rulers and statesmen, musicians, philosophers, founders of religions, and literary authors. These subdivisions were established and printed in Library of Congress Subject Headings under representative pattern personal name headings in order to reduce and keep to a minimum the number of personal names included in Library of Congress Subject Headings. Separate lists of the subdivisions were issued and maintained for each category. General subdivisions usable under any personal name heading were included in the list of most commonly used subdivisions (H 1095).

This present list is a consolidation and revision of the general subdivisions that could be used under any personal name and the subdivisions used under personal names belonging to the special categories. The separate subdivision list for literary authors (H 1155.4) was discontinued in 1998.

LC practice: As stated in H 1075, LC catalogers will no longer use form subdivisions. Instead assign an appropriate term or terms from Library of Congress Genre/Form Terms (LCGFT), e.g. Textbooks. To replace a form subdivision that includes a demographic group, also assign Library of Congress Demographic Groups Terms (LCDGT) to bring out the audience of the resource being cataloged, e.g. German speakers or Arabic, Students of.

B. Recent revisions

2026-01: Updated template. Separated general and form subdivisions. Added instructions related to LCGFT implementation.

C. Types of headings covered

The subdivisions listed below may be used, within the limitations of the usage notes, as free-floating subdivisions under names of individual persons established as headings in the name authority file. The category includes all personal names established in the name authority file except for names of non-human entities (e.g., names of individual fictitious and legendary characters, individual gods and mythological figures, and individually named animals). For free-floating subdivisions that may be used with names of non-human entities, see H 1095.

D. General Principle

When assigning a name heading for a person, subdivide the name on a free-floating basis by the appropriate form and topical subdivisions listed below. If a topical subdivision is assigned which represents an important approach to the work, also provide direct subject access to that topic by assigning an additional heading to the work.

E. Personal name headings

Assign an unsubdivided personal name heading for the complete biography of a person, including autobiography, or for general discussion or criticism of the person's life and/or work. Also use unsubdivided personal name headings for works on more than three separate aspects of an individual's life or work, or discussing one or more specific topics not covered by subdivisions on this list. Consult H 1330 for guidelines and instructions on assigning subject headings to biographical works.

F. Free-floating subdivisions

As needed, subdivide personal name headings by appropriate form and topical subdivisions from the list below on a free-floating basis. General form and topical subdivisions listed in H 1095 with the statement "Use under subjects" are also available for use under personal name headings. Assign the subdivisions according to the guidelines and scope notes provided. References to instruction sheets that mention or may contain more information about a specific subdivision are included. If a specific subdivision is applicable to the topic of the work being cataloged, use it without regard to the size of the file already accumulated or anticipated about the person in the database.

G. Conflicts

Varying or conflicting and additional subdivisions have been established under a few unique and highly significant individuals, for example, Gautama Buddha; Muḥammad, Prophet, -632; Jesus Christ; and Shakespeare, William, 1564-1616. In those cases, the established subdivisions take precedence over this list and should continue to be used.

H. New subdivisions

Propose as additions to this list only new subdivisions having a wide range of potential application. For specific topics applying only to unique or highly significant persons, establish the subdivision under the name of the pertinent person for inclusion in the subject authority file, for example, Mary, Blessed Virgin, Saint--Annunciation. Do not establish specific topics as subdivisions under the names of persons who are not prominent or well known. Instead assign the closest subdivision from the list as described in sec. O below or use the unsubdivided personal name heading with additional headings to bring out the particular topic.

I. Subtopics

For works discussing subtopics or aspects of topical subdivisions on the list that are too specific to be separately established, assign the broader subdivision under which the topic is subsumed. Make an additional entry under the specific topic.

Example:

Title: The professional ethics of Dr. John Smith, surgeon.
   600 00 $a Smith, John $x Ethics.
   650 #0 $a Surgeons $x Professional ethics.

Example:

Title: The murder trial of Wilbur Jackson
   600 00 $a Jackson, Wilbur $x Trials, litigation, etc.
   650 #0 $a Trials (Murder) $z Pennsylvania $z Pittsburgh.

J. Persons with multifaceted careers

J.1. General Rule

Treat persons with multifaceted careers according to the emphasis of the work at hand unless a direct conflict exists between subdivisions on this list. For example, if a person such as Luce, Clare Boothe, 1903-1987, is discussed as a diplomat and politician, assign subdivisions from this list that are appropriate for use with that type of person. If another work deals with her as a playwright, assign subdivisions from this list that are specifically designated for use under literary authors.

J.2. Direct conflicts between subdivisions for use under literary authors and subdivisions used under types of people

In situations where there is a direct conflict between general subdivisions on this list and subdivisions specifically designated for use only under literary authors, assign subdivisions pertinent to the field in which the person is better known. For example, the subdivision --Writing skill is used only under names of people who are not primarily known as literary authors. This subdivision would not be used under the name of an author such as Fitzgerald, F. Scott (Francis Scott), 1896-1940.

Once it has been determined that a person is better known in a particular field and a subdivision appropriate for that field has been assigned under that person, continue to use that subdivision for the concept in question. Do not assign a conflicting subdivision even if the work in hand focuses on another field of activity.

K. Relation to specific disciplines, fields, or topics

In July 2020, three subdivisions on this list that related the person to specific disciplines, fields, or topics were cancelled:  --Career in [specific field or discipline], --Characters--[name of individual character]*, and --Knowledge--[specific topic]. Guidelines on assigning headings to works on a person's relation to a specific discipline, field, or topic are given below.

K.1. Career in a specific field or discipline

Assign the name heading for the person without further subdivision to works limited to describing events in a person's occupational life or participation in a profession or vocation. Also assign the name heading to works that discuss the person's actual substantive contributions or accomplishments in a specific field or topic, whether made as a result of a vocation or an avocation. Assign an additional heading for the field or discipline. For example, a work on George Washington's career in surveying is assigned Washington, George, 1732-1799 and Surveying.

K.2. Knowledge of a specific topic

Assign the name heading subdivided by --Knowledge and learning to works discussing the person's knowledge of a specific topic, whether explicitly stated or inferred from his or her life and work, and for discussions of the person's educational background in a specific topic. Assign an additional heading for the specific topic. Also assign the subdivision --Knowledge and learning to works about the person's formal or informal learning or scholarship in general.

Note: In September 2004, two additional subdivisions relating individual persons to specific fields or topics were discontinued with no replacements: --Contributions in [specific field or topic] and --Views on [specific topic]. In July 2020, the subdivision --Views on [specific topic] was also discontinued under the headings where it had been specifically established: Jesus Christ and Lincoln, Abraham, 1809-1865.

For works discussing the person's actual substantive contributions or accomplishments in a specific field or topic, whether made as a result of a vocation or an avocation, assign the name of the person in combination with a heading for the specific topic, etc. Also assign a heading for the specific topic along with the name of the person for works discussing the person's philosophy or system of thought on a particular topic that he or she propounded or imparted to others. For works discussing the person's opinions or attitudes on a specific topic, whether explicitly stated by the person or inferred from his or her life and works, assign the name of the person and a heading for the topic.

K.3. Literary characters

Assign the name heading for the literary author subdivided by --Characters to works discussing a specific group or category of characters of a literary author, or a specific named character of the literary author. Assign an additional heading according to the guidance under

--Characters in the list below. Also assign the subdivision --Characters to general works on the characters of a literary author.

L. Relations with specific classes of persons or ethnic groups

In July 2020, the subdivision --Relations with [specific class of persons or ethnic group] was cancelled. Assign the personal name heading to works about the person's relationship with a specific class of persons or ethnic group. Assign an additional heading for the class of persons or ethnic group, with appropriate subdivision if necessary.

The free-floating subdivisions --Relations with men and --Relations with women, which are used under names of persons for works on their intimate relations with men and women, respectively, remain valid. The subdivisions --Adversaries, --Contemporaries, --Disciples, --Employees, --Family, and --Friends and associates also remain valid, and represent the person's relationships with those groups. Assign those subdivisions in accordance with the guidance and scope notes provided under each.

M. Assignment of additional headings

Bring out by means of an additional heading the topic of a subdivision representing an important aspect by which the work should be retrieved.

Many subdivisions are not important topics in their own right, for example, some form subdivisions such as --Pictorial works and topical subdivisions such as --Childhood and youth, which express personal aspects of an individual's life. Other subdivisions, however, do represent significant concepts which should be brought out by both a topical subdivision under the person's name and a subject heading for the topic itself. Situations requiring such additional headings are noted in the list.

Example

Title: Goethe the alchemist : a study of alchemical symbolism in Goethe's literary and scientific works.

   600 10 $a Goethe, Johann Wolfgang von, $d 1749-1832 $x Knowledge and learning.

   650 #0 $a Alchemy.

Example

Title: Voyage to China.

   651 #0 $a China $x Description and travel.

   600 10 $a Smith, John $x Travel $z China.

Note: Assign additional headings to biographical works and related material such as anecdotes, correspondence, diaries, interviews, portraits, etc., according to the instructions in H 1330, H 1480, H 1538, H 1678, etc.

N. Implementation

LC practice: The procedures in this instruction sheet apply mainly to new materials being cataloged. Do not attempt to revise systematically the subject headings assigned to existing records in the LC database. Reevaluate and revise as necessary those existing records encountered during the course of normal cataloging activities. When assigning a new subdivision from this list for the first time under the name of a person, correct records using a conflicting subdivision under that person in the LC database.
