A. Recent revisions

2026-05: Updated template. Separated general and form subdivisions. Added instructions related to LCGFT implementation. Added new subdivisions.

B. Types of headings covered by the pattern

The headings covered by this pattern include headings for individual animals and groups of animals at all taxonomic levels, established using either common or scientific names, including animals in their natural or wild state, and those raised or cared for by humans. The pattern also covers headings for extinct and fossil animals.

Examples:

Aedes aegypti
Aquarium fishes
Bigeye tuna
Canada goose
Dinosaurs
Diptera
Dodo
Echinodermata, Fossil
Honeybee
Laboratory animals
Marine animals
Mollusks
Pets
Predatory animals
Sheep

Included are individual breeds or groups of domestic animals, for example, Tennessee walking horse; Poodles; and headings for age and sex groups, for example, Chicks; Foals; Cows.

C. Types of headings not covered

The general headings Animals; Domestic animals; and Livestock are excluded from this category. The category also does not include individually named animals such as Seattle Slew (Race horse) or Morris (Cat).

The subdivisions below are also not used under phrase headings of the type [animal] as laboratory animals or [animal] as pets. Instead, these phrase headings are assigned along with headings of the type [animal]--[appropriate subdivision from the list below].

Also excluded are headings for individual microorganisms. If a subdivision from this list is needed for use under a heading for an individual microorganism, it is established editorially rather than assigned as a free-floating subdivision.

D. General rule

The category is represented by two pattern headings: Fishes and Cattle. Establish subdivisions appropriate for animals in general under Fishes; establish subdivisions specific to domestic animals under Cattle. Subdivisions having restricted use or needing explanation are explained in notes.

Note: In August 1993, the pattern heading list for domestic animals, H 1148, was discontinued. The subdivisions on that list were integrated into this list, and the scope of coverage of this list was expanded to include domestic animals.

Any subdivision listed here can be used as a free-floating subdivision under any heading belonging to the category if it is appropriate and no conflict exists in the subject authority file. Subject authority records may exist for headings employing variant phrases or subdivisions equivalent to subdivisions on this list.

LC practice: If an exceptional variant form is to be retained, make a UF reference from the equivalent free-floating subdivision form following the procedures in H 195 if the reference does not yet exist. Otherwise, submit a proposal to change the variant form along with all bibliographic records requiring correction following the procedures in H 193.

F. List of form subdivisions

LC practice: As stated in H 1075, Library of Congress catalogers will no longer use form subdivisions. Instead assign an appropriate term or terms from Library of Congress Genre/Form Terms (LCGFT) to bring out the form(s) and/or genre(s) of the resource being cataloged. The form subdivisions maintained on this list are not available for use by LC catalogers. Catalogers at institutions external to LC may use them as dictated by their own institutional policies.
